

JOB ANNOUNCEMENT-IMMEDIATE OPENING

Family Advocacy Program Supervisor York County Children's Advocacy Center York, Pennsylvania

The York County Children's Advocacy Center is an independent, non-profit organization that provides a comprehensive program of forensic interviews, medical examinations, interagency coordination, and referrals for children and families affected by sexual or physical abuse.

We are seeking a candidate who will ensure the provision of advocacy, referral and supportive services for families of children where there are allegations of sexual or physical abuse. This position will work closely with the forensic services program of the CAC and all multidisciplinary partners to ensure a collaborative process. Responsibilities include providing follow-up support to families, establishing a network of linkage agreements with mental health service providers. The position will also assist with protocol and program development, promote and advocate for the programs offered through the Center, and assist with general day-to-day activities of the Children's Advocacy Center.

Candidate should be comfortable making public presentations, completing client assessments, facilitating small group training sessions, working with victims of sexual & physical abuse/assault, and be able and willing to implement a program of support services and referral.

Requirements

- MSW or Masters in related field preferred; Bachelors and commensurate experience considered
- Program and staff supervision experience preferred
- Working knowledge of child abuse issues, trauma-informed care beneficial.
- Working knowledge of mental health providers in York County
- Experience with the criminal justice system beneficial
- Exceptional writing skills a must.
- Good organizational, communication, and networking skills.
- Successful completion of a background check, including ChildLine clearances.
- Bi-lingual (Spanish) an asset.

Salary is commensurate with experience. Benefit package provided.

To apply for this position, please apply at yorkcac.org/careers or mail a resume and cover letter detailing your qualifications and interest in the position, dated no later than May 14th, 2021 to the address or email below.

Deborah Harrison, Executive Director
dharrison@yorkcac.org

York County Children's Advocacy Center
28 South Queen Street
York, Pennsylvania 17403